December Recap!

What I've done, and what is upcoming.

by Cheeky Charlie on January 3rd

Well, to be completely honest, this has been one of the toughest months I've had in a long time. Between the usual Christmas expenses and some unexpected setbacks, it's been a bit of a tumultuous time. First, my personal phone gave up entirely— broken beyond repair. Since I rely on my phone just as much for personal use as I do for work, getting a new one wasn't really optional. Then, to top it off, my school decided to change the platform we use for exams, and, of course, my 14-year-old laptop couldn't handle the new software. I knew I'd have to replace it soon, but I wasn't exactly ready to do it right now. As if that wasn't enough, I had a car appointment that revealed a costly issue that can only be resolved at the dealership. Let's just say I've cried more than usual over the last month, and I'm really grateful to see 2024 behind me.

In spite of everything going on, I've been lucky enough to have some truly lovely dates. My lovers, as always, really helped me through the tough patches. One went above and beyond to help me jump my car when it was acting up, and another helped ensure I could make my full tuition payment and register for my winter classes. I'm incredibly grateful for the kindness and support of the people around me.

On a brighter note, I've started getting comfortable with posting on my new Bluesky account! If you're not following me there yet, come join me—I'm hopeful that I can eventually transition this to my main social platform. On the naughty side, I'm also keeping my OnlyFans updated, with some fresh holiday content now live for my subscribers.

This month, I also put out a new product review for the Heating Tongue Vibrator—a toy that pleasantly surprised me. It has a heat function, which is a very thoughtful aspect of the design! You can read all about it on my website, and of course, the associated R-rated video went out to my onlyfans followers.

Unfortunately, my Instagram and Snapchat accounts were both banned over the last bit. Ah, the joys of being an adult professional, right? I'm not sure if I'll bother making new accounts for either just yet. I miss posting on Snapchat, but honestly, it feels like a bit of a break from Instagram's stress. I'm going to give myself some time before making any decisions about those platforms.

Finally, let's end on a positive note: I rang in the new year with my wonderful friend Cici! After the craziness of the month, she came through with gifts, drinks, and food to make sure I had a great start to 2025. It was the perfect way to reset, and I couldn't have asked for a better way to kick off the year.

Looking forward to what 2025 has to offer—hopefully a lot less stress!

January Upcoming!

Which ways are you keen to keep up with me?

January is shaping up to be a month full of both planned time away and plenty of exciting things on the horizon. First and foremost, I'll be taking a week COMPLETELY off from January 9th to 16th for a much-needed holiday that was generously gifted to me for Christmas. This trip will be an actual vacation—no work phone, no laptop, and, for once, no checking messages or keeping up with socials. Normally, I'm still very much "on" even when I'm away, but this time, I'm going to fully unplug. I'm looking forward to recharging and giving myself the time to relax.. And unlimited drinks, I can't lie.

However, don't worry, if you're subscribed to my OnlyFans, I've got you covered! I've pre-scheduled posts, so there will still be fresh content coming your way while I'm away. I won't leave you hanging.

When I return, my schedule will have me hosting in downtown Halifax, as I mentioned last month. I'm sticking to Halifax throughout the winter, so no tours are planned for now. However, if you're hoping to see me in another city during these colder months, we can definitely discuss sponsoring my tour or options for Fly Me To You (FMTY). I'd love to make something work if you're interested!

Check out my schedule on the booking page of my website.

Winter courses also start mid-month, so things will be busy as usual as I balance school and work commitments. With that in mind, I really encourage you to pre-book your time with me, especially if you have a specific date or time in mind. The more notice, the easier it is for me to fit you in around everything else going on.

On that note of juggling a busy schedule over the past few months.. some of the smaller tasks—like keeping up with my social media—haven't gotten as much attention as I'd like. After my vacation, I'm committed to getting back to my usual consistency with posting and engaging on platforms like Twitter and Bluesky. I know it's been a bit spotty, but I'm excited to reconnect and bring more content to you all.

So, while this month looks busy already, who knows what else might pop up along the way? Keep an eye on my website, social media, and OnlyFans for updates, because things could always shift a bit. I'm looking forward to what's in store and will keep you all in the loop as plans evolve!

Stay tuned! xo
